

Tasha Michelle Parker

"...be the change you want to see in the world" ~ Arleen Lorraine

Early Life

Born in the boroughs of Brooklyn, New York, Tasha Michelle has always had a tenacious spirit and an unstoppable desire to bring about change. She began her career on Wall Street in the financial district; however, she found her passion in community service programs. Her life's work reflects this passion.

Power Player

With a background in finance, Tasha Michelle became a change agent in the financial sector. As a lifelong learner, she provides innovative ideas and financial advising to organizations, individuals, and young professionals. As an empathetic leader, she focuses on ensuring open and effective communication with others. She is a skilled thought leader who promotes a healthy and organic nexus between strategy, technology, operational, financial results, while harnessing the wisdom to translate leadership vision into operational excellence.

Warrior

From the streets of New York, to the challenges of the corporate environment, Tasha Michelle has managed to rise to every occasion. Currently operating as visionary and owner of Innovative Financial Planning, LLC (IFP), she has expanded her initial vision of improving the financial intelligence in disenfranchised communities, to include a focus of enhancing the strength of emerging businesses.

Positioned as an impact partner, Tasha Michelle stands firm on her vision of influencing and increasing Black America's economic wealth. Through IFP, this mission is accomplished through the empowerment of black businesses and individuals alike, coupled with the development of sound and effective financial discipline based on God's principles.
